Dear Celine,

No words would be ever enough to express how we felt when we saw your performance at the Olympics. We couldn't stop admiring you when you appeared in your magnificent Dior dress. Furthermore, as students seeing you in Paris for the first time since you were the public eye really moved us. Moreover, we studied your in class and we needed to express our compassion to you. You proved the world how courageous and strong you are for fighting. Indeed, your dedication to your fans and your music is very inspiring. Being a spokesperson you've raised awareness about your disease. Though your condition has weakened your body and hindered your ability to sing, you've never lost your spark. Over and above that we can't wait to see you on tour more blooming than ever. Besides, as young women we look up to you because of what you've accomplished. You are undoubtedly an example of a determined woman and you make us believe that our dreams can come true. By the way, if we had a dollar everytime we sang "My heart will go on" at karaoke, we would have enough to hire you for private show! Last but not least: never forget that the sky is the limit. We are looking forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely

Lison, Salomé, Clara, Elia
